LAST WEEK'S LIFE SAFETY CODE CLASS A SUCCESS

Over 25 locksmiths, both in-house and commercial (aka "out-house"), arrived for a buildings code class given by Zeke Wolfskehl. It appeared that there is a lot of confusion regarding what is, and what is not, allowed in buildings within the NYC limits. Mr. Wolfskehl managed to make the normally boring topic of codes interesting while eliminating most of the confusion.

CAR ALARMS

There is a bill in the NYC Council that would make all audible car alarms illegal. Would you feel comfortable parking in certain neighborhoods without an alarm?

WINDSHIELD FLYERS

It is now illegal to place advertising flyers on vehicles parked on public roads. Because of litter and visibility concerns, the state passed this law several months ago.
